Private Hospitals closed

Doctors hold protest meeting

Private Medical Practitioners staging a protest against the implementation of the Karnataka Private Medical Establishment (Amendments) Bill at the Platinum Jubilee Auditorium in J.K. Grounds this morning.

Mysuru, Nov. 3 (RK&NNN)- Nearly 1,500 doctors, all private practitioners gathered at the Platinum Jubilee Auditorium at JK Grounds this morning to protest against the implementation of the 'draconian' Karnataka Private Medical Establishments (Amendments) Bill 2017, by burning a copy of the Act.

This is the second time in nearly five months (first strike was on June 16) that the Doctor fraternity in the State is going on strike to oppose the Government's move to put curbs on private medical establishments.

The 24-hour State-wide stir (from 8 am today till 8 am tomorrow) is jointly organised by the Indian Medical Association, Mysuru, Mysore Association for Hospitals, Nursing Homes, Diagnostics and Clinics, Indian Society of Critical Care Medicine, Mysore Chapter, Indian Dental Association and City Bone and Joint Care Association.

Former IMA President and Central Council Member Dr. S.P. Yoganna said that this KPME Act, if introduced, is nothing but a death penalty for doctors practising in private establishments. "There is lot of lacuna in the Act as we cannot oppose it and cannot even seek the assistance of a lawyer. It is nothing but a death knell to our profession," he said

He wondered how hospitals, nursing homes and clinics with different facilities could all charge the same fees. "Does our charge to the patients not depend on the kind of basic facilities we provide? If this Bill is implemented we will have to shut our establishments," said Dr. Yoganna.

According to Dr. Yoganna, this was the decision taken at the meeting held in Bidar recently. "All private practitioners have to bid good bye to the profession chanting 'Namo Naryana.' As a result of this Bill becoming an Act it is the public and patients who will suffer," he charged.

The doctors burnt the copy of the Act on the stage in a display of anger and protest. The stir continued until afternoon.

IMA, Mysuru, President Dr. M.S. Vishveshwara, Secretary Dr. Sujatha S. Rao, former IMA, Mysuru President and Secretary, Mysore Medical College Alumni Association Dr. M.S. Kempegowda and others participated in the protest.

Rush at Govt. Hospitals

As nearly 2,000 private establishments including 120 private hospitals and clinics are participating in the 24-hour strike, there was a rush of patients at all the Government Hospitals like K.R. Hospital, Cheluvamba Hospital, Government Ayurveda Hospital, Community Health Hospitals, Primary Health Centres and City Dispensaries.

However, except for the functioning of the Out Patient Departments in private hospitals, the emergency, trauma care departments and the treatment to patients admitted in the wards continued.

The Mysore District Chemists and Druggists Association also showed their solidarity to the strike, though they did not close down their establishments.

A memorandum of the resolution taken will be submitted to the DC this evening.

Police destroy duplicate, unsafe helmets

Mysuru, Nov. 3 (SP&BCT)- The helmet law in Karnataka states very clearly that both the rider and the pillion rider must wear helmets to prevent or minimise injury to the head and brain. But to avoid being caught and penalised by traffic cops, several residents of Mysuru have been using non-standard helmets that will in no way protect the heads in case of accidents.

Quality of work and qualification

The quote Udyogam Purusha Lakshanam is believed by some to have come into existence during a past period in the country when some people chose to be idle, saying that God will look after everything, encouraging begging in the process. A person, irrespective of gender, who does not work is not considered by society as a proper human. Not many would question the merit in the prescription that human beings should always work to rise above their present circumstances — both physically and spiritually. The term udyogam in the aforementioned quote is commonly understood as employment in some job, something that is worth doing. The term Lakshanam, according to scholars, marks out the individual if the work is synonymous with industriousness. This brings the debate on the message in the quote to issues of quality of work. Further, one will do well to the philosophy of dignity of labour espoused by many thinkers as respecting all types of jobs equally, not to forget that begging is out of the reckoning for now.

A news report in a widely read daily that 20 lakh applications were received in response to an announcement by a State government that 20,000 sweepers and drain cleaners would be recruited should help one in making a reality check. The factor of qualification in relation to quality of work has just got into focus as the applicants included M.Sc, M.Com and MBA degree holders, thus prompting one to revisit the aforementioned quote for its relevance in our times.

While job-hunting turns to job-hopping on the part of well-marked sections due to myriad reasons, including disenchantment with the job-in-hand and more take-home pay, clamouring for jobs in the government is common sight and for obvious reasons. The famed British commentator on Public Administration, Cyril Northcote Parkinson (1909-1993) has thrown much light on the quality of work supposed to be done by the staff in different departments of the government, irrespective of their qualifications.

The following narration, reproduced from some source, in pure humour, may interest the readers: One day King wanted to go fishing. He asked the royal weather forecaster for advice, getting the assurance of no chance of rain. The royalty went fishing, meeting a man on the way riding a donkey with a fishing pole, who advised the King to return to the Palace right away not to get caught in a huge rain storm. The King, saying that he held the educated and experienced weather forecaster in high regard, continued on his way, getting badly soaked in the torrential rain. He fired the forecaster and summoned the fisherman, offering him the prestigious job in his government, to learn from the new recruit that he gets proper guidance from his donkey. The King hired the donkey. The practice is unbroken to this date!

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The unemployment rate fell to 5.6 per cent during the week ended October 29. This was a significant fall from the 6.9 per cent rate during the preceding week. High volatility is not uncommon. It is the nature of employment that plays an important role in determining volatility of the unemployment rate. In India, a large proportion of the labour force does not have a regular job. People are mostly employed as daily wage workers, agricultural labourers, small farmers and self-employed traders. These include the assortment of plumbers, masons, cargo loaders, badli workers, etc. These move in and out of "jobs" fairly rapidly. What is useful to see in the monthly unemployment rate series is that there is a trend. It is not random. It therefore does carry useful information. It would be useful to add a new series to the unemployment rate — one that is based on only the organised sector. We should expect low volatility in this. — Mahesh Vyas in Business Standard.

They are inseparable

Huyton: Ada Keating, a 98-year-old mother of four, recently moved into a care home in Huyton, Liverpool, not because she couldn't take care of herself, but to look after her 80-year-old son Tom.

Tom Keating became a resident of the Moss View retirement home in 2016, when it became clear that he was no longer able to care for himself. His mother Ada joined him after about a year, when it became apparent that he would require additional support. The mother and son, originally from Wavertree, share a special bond, as Tom never married and had always lived with Ada. Tom was a painter and decorator at HE Simm building services before his retirement, while Ada was an auxiliary nurse at the former Mill Road Hospital. They lived together in the family home for most of their lives, and now do so again, in a retirement home.

Handless Magician

Canada: Meet Mahdi Gilbert, the 25-year-old Canadian magician making waves in the world of magic. He practices card manipulation and sleight of hand, a common skill set for a magician, but what sets him apart is his lack of hands. Standing at four-feet-six inches, Gilbert's left arm stops at the elbow, and he has an articulated appendage on his right arm. Gilbert was forced to reinvent magic for himself, individually recreating all of the techniques used in his illusions. "I had to become self-sufficient from an early age; there's no magic books written for me," Gilbert said in an interview.

As a child, he was never exposed to magic, neither live nor on television, but he heard stories about "people called magicians who could do these amazing things." Despite his lack of access to information about magic, having never visited any magic stores, or read any magic books, Gilbert confidently informed his high school guidance counsellor "I'm going to be a magician."

End exploitation of Pourakarmikas

Sir,

Apropos the news item "Commission to file cases against MCC, Zoo and Palace Board" (SOM dated Oct. 29), Pourakarmikas, who do all dirty, dangerous and back-breaking jobs are an exploited lot by the contractors and all sundry in the establishment. Flouting rules, it's a shame that they're made to work without masks, boots, hand gloves, push-carts and other materials required.

Safai Karmachari Commission of the State should be complimented for deciding to file suo motu cases against the heads of these organisations. The message from the Commission to the officers probably is: 'Do not restrict yourselves to your well-furnished office chambers, go and also see how the civic workers are cleaning the clogged chambers'! Fraudulent contractors should be shown the door.

Clogged drains at Srirampura

Sir,

I would like to draw the attention of the authorities concerned towards the clogged drains diagonally opposite to Ashwini Kalyan Mantap in Srirampura which houses the MUDA allotted HIG houses. Water is stagnated in these drains which is a breeding ground for mosquitoes and other insects. Come another spell of rain, this area which was not flooded last time is sure to experience some inconvenience.

I pray to the concerned to visit the spot and take up some cleaning activity at the earliest.

I am not a VC but a clerk furnishing documents, laments KSOU VC

Mysuru, Nov. 3 (PM&BCT)- "I am not a Vice-Chancellor of Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) but a clerk who sends records and documents to the University Grants Commission (UGC). My role has been reduced to that of a clerk whose job is just to scout for documents and submit the same to the UGC."

Shivalingaiah

These were the words of KSOU Vice-Chancellor (VC) Prof. D. Shivalingaiah, who was expressing his unhappiness over the UGC's move to derecognise KSOU and its distance education programmes. He took umbrage on the attitude of the UGC in not providing the recognition, virtually killing the University and threatening the careers of thousands of students.

"The UGC is silent on Tamil Nadu's Annamalai University that offers distance education programmes without any control or regulation. Here, the UGC has singled out KSOU that has been a beacon of knowledge to lakhs of students who cannot afford regular education," he told reporters yesterday. Even this year, Annamalai University has advertised its courses and the UGC has turned a blind eye to this, he added.

"We are fed up of travelling to New Delhi UGC office and pleading before the UGC officials to re-accord recognition. All those trips have proved futile and I have been reduced to a clerk who just provides records."

Amit Shah launches BJP's Karnataka election campaign in Bengaluru

BJP National President flags off Nava Karnataka Nirmana Parivarthana Rally

Karnataka BJP President B.S. Yeddyurappa, Union Ministers H.N. Ananth Kumar and D.V. Sadananda Gowda, seen felicitating BJP National President Amit Shah during the launch of the party's 75-day 'Nava Karnataka Nirmana Parivarthana Yatra' in Bengaluru yesterday as former CM Jagadish Shettar, former BJP Ministers C.T. Ravi, K.S. Eshwarappa, Shobha Karandlaje, former State President Prahlad Joshi, Karnataka BJP In-charge K. Muralidhar Rao and others look on.

Bengaluru, Nov. 3 (KMS& BCT)- Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) National President Amit Shah yesterday flagged off the Nava Karnataka Nirmana Parivarthana Yatra, a 75-day tour across Karnataka led by its State President B.S. Yeddyurappa, kicking off the party's campaign for Assembly elections due in 2018.

The rally, in which other senior State and Central leaders will also participate, started its journey from Bengaluru yesterday and is looking to cover all 224 constituencies before returning to the capital city on Jan. 28, 2018. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is expected to be part of the event to be held on Jan. 28.

Giving broad indications of the shape the BJP's campaign would take during the 2018 elections, Amit Shah made a scathing attack on Chief Minister Siddharamaiah remarking that the CM was more enthusiastic about celebrating the birth anniversary of erstwhile Mysuru ruler Tipu Sultan than the prestigious Kannada Rajyotsava or State Formation Day.

It was obvious from the tenor of his speech that the BJP, during the polls, now just six months away, would try to tap pro-Hindu sentiments and focus on the shortcomings of the Congress government and Siddharamaiah in particular. The party has been opposing Tipu Jayanti as it considers Tipu a 'religious bigot' and a 'brutal killer' of Hindus.

"It is a Yatra to transform the situation in Karnataka. We want to change the condition of farmers, we want to change the condition of youths, we want to change the law and order situation in Karnataka and we want to replace this corrupt government with a honest and visionary one under the leadership of Narendra Modi and Yeddyurappa," Shah said.

"This Parivarthana (transformation) rally is not to change the CM, not to change the government, not to change the legislators. This is to change the state of Karnataka," Shah said, amid allegations of corruption and misgovernance. He said the aim is to change the plight of farmers and youth, and the law and order situation as well as disempowering the Lokayukta in the State, which he said had hit a new low under the Congress government.

Law and order in the State has collapsed after the Congress came to power and more than 19 RSS and BJP workers had been brutally killed but the CM was busy withdrawing cases filed against the pro-minority SDPI, which has even been branded anti-national, said the BJP Chief.

"Siddharamaiah branded himself as a champion of the backward classes but his party has opposed the Central Bill on providing Constitutional status to the BCs Commission. The Congress even defeated the Bill in the Upper House of the Parliament," he said.

Hitting out at the CM for his attempts to blame the Centre for meting out step-motherly treatment to the State, Shah reeled out statistics on the release of massive Central grants to Karnataka after the Modi-led government came to power.

According to him, during the tenure of the 13th Finance Commission, the Centre released Rs. 88,583 crore to Karnataka which went up to Rs. 2,19,506 crore under the 14th Finance Commission. The State thus got an additional Rs. 1.30 lakh crore funds, he said and demanded that the CM furnish an account on where the funds had gone.

Shah spoke of a recent survey which had ranked Karnataka as the most corrupt State and alleged that the Siddharamaiah government was involved in the steel bridge scam and murky real estate deals.

He referred to the seizure of a diary from a Congress MLC considered close to the CM in which the names of several Ministers and payments made, had allegedly figured and said the CM was hesitant to demand the resignation of these Ministers as he feared they would expose him.

Joins BJP

C.P. Yogeshwar, a rebel Congress member of the Legislative Assembly from Channapatna and an independent MLA from Kudachi, P. Rajeev joined the BJP in Shah's presence.

It's not 'Parivarthana' but 'Paschathapa' Yatra: Siddu

Siddharamaiah

Bengaluru, Nov. 3 - Hitting back, CM Siddharamaiah said the BJP Yatra was not about 'Parivarthana' but an act of 'Paschathapa' (repentance) for the BJP and what he called its misdeeds, including pitting communities against each other and spreading hatred.

"BJP leaders are the ones who need to undergo transformation because they are disrupting communal harmony in the name of Hindutva," he said.

The CM said the people of Karnataka, who gave the BJP a chance to govern a few years ago, have not forgotten the crimes committed by them. "During the tenure of Yeddyurappa, the Reddy brothers of Bellary were allowed to loot the State. They were given a free run in return for funds provided by them," he added.

CM to set out on his own Yatra

Meanwhile, in response to the Parivarthana Yatra, the CM said he is planning his own campaign in December to counter the BJP's Yatra. The campaign to be called as "Jana Aashirvada Yatra," will commence from Dec. 15 in Bidar and will continue till Jan. 30, 2018.

The Yatra will cover all the 30 districts and despite his responsibilities of governance, Siddharamaiah is planning to address at least three rallies in each district.

However, the planning of the Yatra is still in the early stages and details related to the Chief Minister's schedule are still being worked out. The Yatra will be distinct from other campaigns of the Congress, it is learnt.

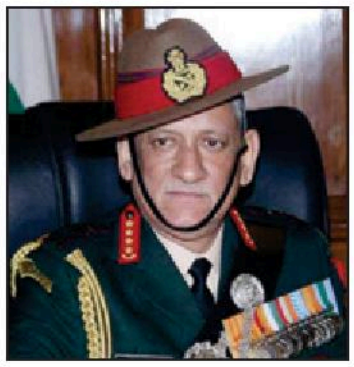
Army Chief to unveil statues of Field Marshal Cariappa and Gen. Thimayya at Gonikoppal tomorrow



Gen. Bipin Rawat

Army personnel conducting a practice drill this morning ahead of tomorrow's grand event at Kodagu. Picture right shows the bronze statues of Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa and Gen. K.S. Thimayya waiting to be unveiled by Chief of the Army Staff Gen. Bipin Rawat at Cauvery College in Gonikoppal.

Gonikoppal, Nov. 3 (BCT)- Chief of the Army Staff General Bipin Rawat will unveil the bronze statues of Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa and General K.S. Thimayya at a function in Cauvery College, Gonikoppal, Kodagu district, tomorrow at 10.30 am.

Hectic preparations are on at the College to make the event a grand success. A giant pandal has been erected at the venue and senior Army officers have inspected the place and conducted security drills.

The site for the statues — located close to the 'Ain Mane,' the ancestral house of the Kodandera family belonging to the Generals — has been provided by the Cauvery Educational Society. The bronze statues (7'6" in height) were crafted in Bidadi by Shilpi Vijay at a cost of Rs. 17 lakh. This is the only location in India where statues of Army Chiefs stand next to one another.

The history of valour in the Indian Army is incomplete without mention of Kodavas, and amongst them Field Marshal Cariappa and General Thimayya stand out as shining examples of leadership and inspiration.

Field Marshal Cariappa was the first Indian Commander-in-Chief of the Indian Army and was conferred the rank of Field Marshal on April 28, 1986. He was also a recipient of the Order of the British Empire for his role in the Burma campaign against the Japanese during World War II. General Thimayya was awarded the Padma Bhushan in 1954 and took over as Army Chief on May 7, 1957.

The Field Marshal Cariappa-General Thimayya Forum has been formed with the aim of helping veterans and motivating youngsters to join the armed forces. The Forum started celebrating the birth anniversaries of the Generals in 2007, and today, Field Marshal Cariappa's birth anniversary has become a government event. Efforts are on to do the same for Gen. Thimayya's birth anniversary as well. The Forum is also actively involved in turning 'Sunny Side,' which was Gen. Thimayya's residence in Madikeri, into a Museum and War Memorial. The plan is to complete the work by mid-2018.

Nine-foot tall Ambedkar Statue to adorn Manasagangothri campus

Mysuru, Nov. 3 (NNN)-A nine-foot tall bronze statue of the architect of Indian Constitution, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, will be installed soon in the University of Mysore's Manasagangothri Campus.

The bronze statue is being sculpted in Hyderabad and it will be installed in the garden facing the University Library. While the total cost of the project is around Rs. 25 lakh, the cost of the statue alone is about Rs.10 lakh to Rs. 15 lakh, which according to sources in the University is being funded through donations.

Acting VC Prof. Dayanand Mane, who is the main force behind the installation of the statue, said that a few people have assured donations and a few irrespective of caste, creed or religion are donating for the statue.

The sources in the University said that the approval for installing the statue in Manasagangothri campus was given by the State Government and the Syndicate had also given its nod. The cost of the 7.5-foot pedestal, ornamental grills, granite and paver blocks with focus lights will cost around Rs. 10 lakh and this cost is being borne by the UoM. The total height of the statue from the base of the pedestal will be 16.5 feet.

The acting VC is keen that the statue is installed before Nov.22 as his term ends on that day. The statue of Dr. Ambedkar has been installed in many foreign Universities. There are two busts of the great Indian leader installed in the USA. One is in Columbia University, his alma mater, where it was installed in 2015 and the other in Brandeis University, Boston, installed in April 2017.

The 700 kg, 6-foot statue of Rashtrakavi Kuvempu seated on a Rattan chair, cast in bronze welcomes the students, the faculty and the visitors to the beautiful Manasagangothri Campus. The other statues that also attract everyone's attention are the beautiful marble statue of the Buddha under the Peepul tree and the Creation of Creations in granite in front of the School of Planning and Architecture. Now, with the addition of the life-size statue of Dr. Baba Saheb Ambedkar, the campus is turning out to be a truly inspirational place for the students and the faculty.

Cervical Incompetence and Miscarriage

Gouri, 34 years old, married for 8 years had eight pregnancy losses. Out of the eight pregnancy losses, four losses were in the first part of pregnancy and four losses were between fourth – seventh months of pregnancy. Looking at her previous history, where she had had pregnancy losses between 3–7 months, a decision was taken to do a trans-abdominal cervical cerclage – a stitch placed at the level of internal os or around the cervix through the abdominal route. She conceived again and this was her 9th pregnancy. The abdominal cerclage was still in place. The patient was started on Low Molecular Weight Heparin (LMWH) right from the time that the pregnancy was confirmed to be situated inside the uterus. She was also found to be mild diabetic. At 32 weeks a Doppler showed a falling resistance in middle cerebral artery with uncontrolled hypertension. The patient was taken for Elective LSCS and delivered a male baby weighing 1.65 kgs.

Dr. Devika Gunasheela

Cervical incompetence is a medical condition in which the neck of the womb (cervix) in a pregnant woman begins to open and thin out much before the date that the baby is due to be born. Cervical incompetence may cause miscarriage or pre term birth during the second and third parts of the pregnancy. Cervical incompetence occurs because of weakness of the cervix.

Risk Factors: History of previous pregnancies ending in abortions in the second & early third trimester (i.e., between 13 – 30 weeks of pregnancy), any operations on the neck of the womb and repeated abortions where the pregnancy has taken out surgically.

Treatment: Once the problem of incompetence is diagnosed, the condition may be treatable through a surgical procedure called cerclage (stitching the cervix closed). One or more stitches are placed around or through the cervix to keep it tightly closed. This is usually performed after the twelfth week of pregnancy, the time after which a woman is least likely to miscarry for other reasons - but it is not done if there is rupture of the membranes or infection. How to tame politicians?

Waiting for Supreme Court's oracle

The lead front page news on Thursday, Nov. 2, 2017 reads "Speed up trial of politicians, says SC." Well, to whom is the gentle suggestion? To politicians? I mean to the Government run by the politicians? If so the Supreme Court is chasing a charade.

The Court was hearing a PIL by a BJP leader Ashwini Upadhyay challenging six-year ban, under the Representation of People's Act for convicted politicians, from contesting the election. He was seeking a life-time ban instead for convicted politicians from contesting elections. A very noble, just and morally correct request to the Supreme Court which alone can save our country from scoundrels for whom politics is the last resort and who are out to destroy our democracy.

The Election Commission now wants the ban for life-time for a convicted person.

Under the current law, a legislator is debarred for six years from contesting elections once he is convicted for heinous or moral offences. Various pleas have knocked the Supreme Court's door arguing that the ban should be lifetime at par with the judiciary and executive where a person cannot hold office for life post conviction.

Earlier in July, the Election Commission faced the flak of the Supreme Court for not taking a clear stand on a plea seeking barring of convicted politicians for life.

A Bench comprising Justices Ranjan Gogoi and Navin Sinha had came down heavily on the Election Commission:

"Is silence an option for you (ECI)? You must say either 'yes' or 'no' on whether you are supporting the petitioner. You are the ECI and here is a citizen of India who has come here to seek life-time debarment of convicted persons. Can you say I will be silent? No, you cannot," the Bench said.

"If you (ECI) feel constrained by the legislature, then let us know. If you are even constrained to the extent of giving your view, feel free and say so clearly," it said. This tongue-lashing seems to have had its salutary effect at last on the Election Commission — apparently working under the shadow of politicians of all hues.

Narendra Modi

Supreme Court of India

It may be recalled that seeking to negate the Supreme Court's verdict, (of six-year ban) the UPA government had introduced a Bill in Parliament in the Monsoon session. But following differences with the Opposition, the Bill could not be passed. But, shameless UPA, undaunted by the Opposition objections took a different route to achieve its sinister goal.

An ordinance on the lines of the Bill was later cleared by the Union Cabinet on Sept. 24, 2013 to protect convicted lawmakers. This is proof that UPA was indirectly responsible for criminalising politics and in helping convicted politicians like Lalu Prasad Yadav of Bihar.

Mercifully for our country, the Cabinet decided to withdraw the Ordinance as well as the Bill in the wake of NOT the public outburst against it but only when Congress Vice-President Rahul Gandhi objected to it at a press conference addressed by his party spokesperson Ajay Makan.

Rahul Gandhi stormed into the press meet called the Ordinance as "nonsense" and said it should be "torn" and "thrown out".

Now let us wait for the final word on this by the Supreme Court.

The Law Commission is also for life-time ban for such convicted politicians. I am with them, so also my friends of BB Club — Beer and Beef Lovers Club.

The Supreme Court seemed determined to cleanse our politics of criminality and corruption. However, many of my friends, on seeing Supreme Court's order on this PIL felt that the Court was merely trying to inflict wound without hurting (the politicians).

The Apex Court was aware that the politicians on trial for corruption and heinous crimes managed to drag the trial to infinity so much so by the time the case is decided the politician on trial would have served as a Minister or Legislator several times over. Take for example, former Telecom Minister Sukhram and in recent times P. Chidambaram whose election was challenged by the 'defeated' AIADMK candidate. Also do not forget Lalu Prasad Yadav. The list is like Hanuman's tail...

It was a shame on our kind of democracy that till July 2013 a Legislator, who is convicted, was not disqualified to contest an election or barred from serving as a Minister if he appealed against his conviction within 90 days. Thanks to Supreme Court that struck down a sinister provision protecting the convicted politicians if they filed an appeal against their conviction within 90 days.

In March 2014, the SC ruled that criminal trials of corruption and of heinous crimes of politicians and elected representatives should be completed in a year. We do not know if this is complied with or dodged cleverly under some legal cover. At the time of 2014 elections, there were 1,581 criminal cases pending against MPs and MLAs. Now SC has asked the Centre to give a Report Card on this by Dec. 13 this year. Let us see, rather let us keep our fingers crossed.

The Nov. 1, 2017 SC order says that government must frame a Central Scheme for setting up Special Courts across the country to exclusively try criminal cases involving political persons, apart from elected representatives.

As expected, the NDA Government (like the UPA earlier) was not inclined, giving excuses like non-availability of funds with the State. The SC said this could be solved by having a Central Scheme. The Centre, of course, is flush with funds. The SC was also condescending when it volunteered to directly interact with State governments on appointing Judges, Judicial Officers, Public Prosecutors, Court Staff etc. The Central government was stumped.

Now, the Court has asked the government to place the Scheme before it on Dec. 13, let us hope the Centre will abide by the Court's order.

But how about resolving the following issues hurting our democracy. This I received through WhatsApp, attributed to Sundar Pichai, the Google Chief. "The irritated Indian." Wonder, if Sundar Pichai is the real author of this:

A politician can fight elections from two seats, but you can't vote from two places.

If you are in jail, then you can't vote. But a politician can fight elections while in jail.

If you have ever been in jail, then you can never get a government job. But a politician could have been in jail any number of times and then also he can become PM or President.

You have to be a graduate to get any ordinary job in a bank. But if a politician is illiterate still he can become India's Finance Minister.

If you feel that this system needs to be changed, then support by spreading this message."

Police destroy unsafe helmets

After the helmet rule was enforced for pillion riders, the sale of non-ISI-marked helmets picked up with almost every street in Mysuru sporting one or two vendors selling such cheap helmets. These helmets are sold on roadsides for anything between Rs. 100 and Rs. 300, half the cost of a genuine ISI helmet which normally costs anything upwards of Rs. 700.

Cracking on such non-standard helmets, the city Police have started seizing and destroying such helmets that endanger the lives of motorists. Police say that such helmets are not only unsafe but also full of chemical substances that damage the skin when the helmet is exposed to the sun.

Hundreds of helmets were destroyed this morning at the Traffic Assistant Commissioner's Office in Shivarampet. The helmets were broken into pieces using a machete. Police said that a large number of people buy the cheaper helmets sold on the roadsides even though they are aware of the risks involved — one because they are cheap, and two because for them the helmet is not to avoid injuries to the head but because they want to escape paying a fine for not wearing a helmet.

Hundreds of fish found dead at KRS boating pond

Use of explosives for fishing suspected

Mandya, Nov. 3 (NG&KS)- Hundreds of fish from different species were found dead at the boating pond at Brindavan Gardens at the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Reservoir on Tuesday. It is suspected that miscreants may have used explosives for fishing, mocking the high-level round-the-clock security at the reservoir. According to the Police, a good number of fully-grown fishes of various species were found dead and floating on Tuesday morning. Initially, the personnel at KRS tried to clear the fishes. However, some visitors noticed the incident and alerted the Irrigation Department personnel.

Though use of explosives for fishing is banned in KRS for security reasons, the use of explosives at the highly-secured KRS boating point has given rise to security concerns.

Jayaramaiah, Assistant Director, Department of Fisheries, who visited the spot, suspected that miscreants may have used explosives or may have poisoned the fish. Though three days have passed since the incident took place, officials or security personnel have not lodged complaints nor has anyone taken steps to know the exact cause for the death of fish.

The Police also suspect that the fishes were killed by using explosive materials. The Police will receive a complaint from Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Ltd. (CNNL), custodian of KRS, or other authorities and conduct an inquiry, Police said. "We have sent the fishes for laboratory tests," Jayaramaiah said.

ONLINE FRAUD

Three cheat Amazon of Rs. 4 lakh

Mysuru, Nov. 3 (RK&BCT)- A new type of online fraud where e-commerce companies are cheated by claiming 'deficiency of service' has been reported in the city.

The modus operandi is that once the product is booked online and is delivered after payments are made, the 'buyers' (read conmen) call the company representatives claiming that they have got empty boxes. Worried about their reputation, e-commerce Company replaces the "empty boxes" with genuine products.

The fraud has been reported in Udayagiri Police limits where Amazon e-commerce Company's Marketing Manager Nishanth Sharma has lodged a complaint against Venkatesh, Anand and Shashikumar, all Mysureans. According to the complaint, the trio cheated Amazon up to the tune of Rs. 4 lakh.

The trio had floated a private company "E-commerce" and had registered with Amazon under different e-mail IDs and had opened different accounts. "E-commerce" company was floated to supply iPhones, refrigerators and other gadgets to the public. Once the company was registered, it was connected to three fictitious bank accounts to look genuine and to avoid detection.

The trio then booked an iPhone 7 that is worth Rs. 45,000. Following the product delivery notification by Amazon, the trio paid Rs. 45,000 and got the phone delivered to their address. After removing the phone from the box, they called the company officials and claimed that they had got empty iPhone box instead of the gadget. Amazon then replaced the 'empty' box with another brand new iPhone.

Tasting success at their fraud, the conmen ordered two more phones and other expensive gadgets by using the same modus operandi. They even threatened to file cases in Consumer Court for "service deficiency" and also threatened to send them a lawyer notice. Fearing for their reputation, Amazon replaced the products twice.

The con job was, however, caught for the third time and Amazon, through its Marketing Manager, lodged a complaint with Udayagiri Police. Inspector Santosh told SOM that cases under Section 420 of IPC and Sections 66 C and D under IT Act have been registered against the conmen who are at present absconding.

A Tribute to Muthuswamy Dikshitar

By Dr. Rama V. Bennur

Muthuswami Dikshitar, one of the trinities of Karnatak music, occupies a special place in the heart of musicians and music lovers. Youngest of the Trinity, he has composed with 'Guruguha' as his pen name. Dikshitar's compositions which spread to nearly 500, display his profoundness in music, Sanskrit, Srividyaandadvaitha philosophy. His Navagraha, Kamalambanavavarana and the 72 melakarthakrithis are unique and display a fine craftsmanship. It is said that it was he, who introduced Samashticharana in the place of two or more charanas. His compositions on different Deities are filled with information about the importance of the temple, puja customs apart from describing the deity. A Vainika and a gayaka himself, Dikshitar has used many Hindustani ragas too in his compositions. His 'Nottuswaras' for the little ones are based on western music.

It is said that he breathed his last on the day of Deepavali (1835) while listening to his own composition 'Meenakshi Memudam' by his disciples. Tyagaraja Sangeetha Sabha celebrated Dikshitar's Day on the 19th of October 2017, yet again on the day of Deepavali and paid rich tributes to Muthuswami Dikshitar. Many senior musicians of Mysuru joined hands with the Sabha and paid their respects to the Great Vaggeyekara. Dr. R.N. Srilatha, Rajalakshmi, M.R. Sudha, Meera Manjunath, Medha Manjunath, Bellary M. Raghavendra, N.R. Parashuram, Manasa Nayana, R.S.Nandakumar, N.R. Prashanth and N. Shreenath were the singers. H.K. Narasimhamurthy and M.A. Jyothi provided violin and A. Radhesh and Saishivu played mridanga for all the artistes.

This celebration brought out many rare compositions of Dixitar like Panchabhoothakshetra Shiva varnane, chaturdasharagamalika and navavarana. Each musician presented three kruthis of Dikshitar, there by bringing the total number to thirty! Such occasions invariably help in popularizing unheard compositions.

Vid. Sringeri H.S. Nagaraj gave a fine vocal performance under the aegis of Tyagaraja Sangeetha Sabha on the 25th of October at Sri Rama Mandira of Jayanagar. He was accompanied by C.A. Nataraj (violin), P.S. Sridhar (mridanga) and Sriram Bhat (khanjira).

Sringeri Nagaraj is a rare musician who has devoted his life for the cause of music and is a strict follower of tradition. Thus, he has preserved the purity and classicism of Karnatak music and encourages his students to follow and spread the same. Rich voice that gushes to create an impact on the listeners with a clear enunciation dipped in emotion are the hallmark of his singing. Backed by a vast repertoire and musical acumen he makes his performance unforgettable.

There were few rare compositions like the varna in the raga saramathi 'Kaamakshithaaye', 'Aanandamayamanave' (Jyothiswarupini) by Valajapete Venkataramana Bhagavatar, Tyagaraja's Sri Ranga Pancharathna 'Vinaraadana' (Devagandhari)and 'Neelakanthaniranjana' (abhogi), 'Sri Saidevambhaje' (Shuddhahindola) by Bana Gundurao. Highlight of the concert was his exuberant alapana of Jyothiswarupini and Mayamalavagowla. They were rewarding expositions in the lower and middle octaves. Jyothiswaroopini was elaborated in meticulous, unhurried fashion. The majestic negotiations were flooded with imaginative flashes. The sparkling kalpanaswaras too carried the classical purity.

'Namaste varadeparadevate' was another rare kruthi of Muthuswami Dikshitar in the raga Devaranji. The majestic 'Merusamana' and 'Shri Saraswathi nampsthute' (Aarabhi) were enjoyable. Nagaraj's improvisational felicity elicited good responses from C.A. Nataraj on violin. P.S. Sridhar and Sriram Bhat's percussion support was also worth mentioning.

WORD OF THE DAY

Werewolf

Pronunciation: WAIR-woolf

Meaning: A person transformed into a wolf or capable of assuming a wolf's form.

Origin: Though some doubts about the word's etymology still remain, werewolf probably comes from a prehistoric West Germanic compound whose constituent parts gave Old English wer ("man") and wulf ("wolf"). The word is related to Middle Dutch weerwulf and Old High German werwolf. Another rather obscure word for werewolf is lycanthrope, which traces back through Latin to a Greek combination of lyk- (from lykos, meaning "wolf") and anthrō-pos (meaning "human being"). English also sometimes makes use of the French-derived word loup-garou, from Old French leu ("wolf") and garoul or garulf (a word of Germanic origin meaning "werewolf").

THE ODD WORD

Rack-rent
Excessive rent

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Join the colours

Meaning: Enlist in the army.

Origin: Each regiment in the British Army has a flag, called its 'colour'. This dates back to at least the 16th century. In this citation from certain discourses concerning the forms and effects of diverse sorts of weapons, and other very important matters militarie, 1590, Sir John Smythe appears to be disparaging about what must then have been new practice of calling an ensign (flag) a colour:

Colours is by them so fondlie& ignorantly given, as if they should (in stead of Ensignes) be asked how manie Colours of footmen there were in the Armie." The word 'colour' in this context is now best remembered via the annual ceremony in London of 'Trooping the Colour', in which various regiments of the British Army, notably the Household Division, parade their regimental colours before the monarch.

QUOTE BOX
